What to WATCH

DIV SOS (BBC1, 8pm)

Nick Knowles and his team of builders are in Conwy this week where they have come to the rescue of David Williams and his eight year-old daughter Erica. They have been living in a caravan since their plans for a new home were put hold when David was diagnosed with cancer and his wife passed away suddenly. The team have only ten days to make this wreck of a house a proper home for Erica and her dad, with the help of local builders you can guarantee that the result will be a home fit for a king.

One Born Every Minute (C4, 9pm)

Three couples are determined to do things their way tonight starting with 32-year-old, Rowena, who wants to break with Indian tradition and have the baby's father in the room with her when she gives birth. Meanwhile bisexual Jayne waits for her pre-booked caesarean section, with her childhood sweetheart Adam, and 18-year-old Leanne, supported by her best friend Lori-Beth, play Facebook games while waiting for labour to progress.

The Crusades (BBC2, 9.30pm)

In this three-part series, historian Dr Thomas Ashbridge uncovers new evidence and eye-witness testimonies shedding fresh light on the Christian-Muslim conflict. He traces how the first Crusade began with a sermon by Pope Urban II and ended in a two-day blood bath, the sacking of Jerusalem and the slaughter of its inhabitants. It goes some way to explaining the crusaders extraordinary fusion of violence and faith.

Jonathan Meades on France BBC4, 9.00pm
It's just a hop across the Channel – you can even get there by train – but how much do we really know about our European neighbours? France? Writer and broadcaster Jonathan Meades seems to feel that our knowledge of the country is a bit selective, as here he's one mission to visit parts of France that he feels are too often overlooked by British tourists. He begins his journey in Lorraine in the north-east of the country, and discovers that while it is seen as being the home of romantic nationalism, it has also been shaped by its closeness to Germany.

Film

Born on the Fourth of July Sky Movies Drama & Romance, 11.50pm
Director Oliver Stone's double-Oscar-winning movie is the middle part of his Vietnam-based trilogy. This harrowing drama is based on the true story of Ron Kovic who, as a gung-ho war recruit joins the Marines and is sent to Vietnam, where he receives horrific injuries which leave him paralysed from the chest down. Tom Cruise gives a powerful performance in the lead role, charting the fighter's early patriotism, through his eventual disillusionment to his long physical and mental recovery.

Sport

Live Australian Open Tennis Eurosport, 12.00am
The opening session on day four of the Grand Slam event takes place at Melbourne Park, as the second-round matches continue. Andy Murray eased past Iliya Marchenko to continue his comfortable progress on his way to the final for the second successive year in 2011, and Rafael Nadal also won with the minimum of discomfort against Ryan Sweeting. However, eventual champion Novak Djokovic dropped a set against Ivan Dodig, before winning the last two for the loss of just two games.
